This course will provide law enforcement officers with an overview of insurance fraud as it relates to the diversion of prescription drugs and controlled substances. Participants will learn through various examples of insurance fraud used to obtain controlled substances. Participants will have an understanding how to expand criminal cases by identifying the health plans being charged for the diverted medications. This course will go over the several methods utilized by criminals to obtain controlled substances, from the single user to large scale organized drug rings.

Space is limited!

You MUST register in advance as attendance is restricted to Law Enforcement!
